DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

August Election, 1889.

FOR STATE TREASURER,

STEPHEN G. SHARPE,

of Fayette county.

FOR STATE SENATOR,

HON. W. T. TEVIS,

of Madison county.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,

W. B. SMITH,

FOR CORONOR,

B. DUDLEY MILLER.

Vote for Tevis and Smith.

Vote for W. T. Tevis for Senator and for W. B. Smith for Representative.

Vote for a new constitution and thereby break up the great flood of local legislation.

Gen. Cassius M. Clay writes a rather incisive letter to the Courier-Journal. He slices up certain elements of the Republican regime.

How can our Legislature ever transact any general business, so long as it is weighed down with local bills? Vote for the new constitution.

From a supplement sent out by the Frankfort Capital containing the constitution of Kentucky and the official vote adopting the same, we observe that the majority in the State was 51,251.

Dr. Phil Roberts was on last Wednesday nominated for the State Senate by the Republicans in convention assembled in Richmond. Dr. Roberts represented Madison county in the Legislature, some years ago. We are sorry to say that the avenue through which he must pass to reach the Senate is completely blocked.

THE COLORED MEN SPEAK.

At Birmingham there is a newspaper called the Courier, and it is edited by colored men. In its issue of the 15th it says: "Let the colored race receive the same respect as a receipt in full for all claims they have on him, and in 1892 let the South show this man that they have rights which even a president of the United States must respect."

HON. W. T. TEVIS NOMINATED FOR THE SENATE.

Pursuant to a call, the Senatorial Democratic Convention for the 29th district was held in the Court House in Richmond, on Saturday, July 20th, 1889. Chairman C. D. Chenault called the convention to order and stated its objects. Mr. J. D. Winn, of Estill county, was elected chairman, and Mr. S. D. Parrish, of Madison county, Secretary.

Nominations being in order, the names of W. T. Tevis, L. Shelby Irvine, J. D. Harris, J. J. Brooks and others were put forward with speeches by Col. Tevis, Senator Harris, Mr. J. A. Sullivan, Dr. Poyntz, Hon. J. R. Burnam and others. But the parties whose names had been put forth, all asked to be excused, except Hon. W. T. Tevis, who was unanimously nominated.

Col. Tevis accepted in an excellent stirring speech, amidst great applause.

The meeting then adjourned. Col. Tevis well represented Madison county in the Legislature, two years ago, and is a skilled politician, a prosperous farmer and good citizen. He said he would run to win, and no doubt he will. He left at once for Rockcastle county to open the canvass.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

Yellow fever has made its appearance at Coler.

The Fayette Court of Claims has appropriated $50,000 for a new jail.

Allie Lee, of Danville, aged 18 years was drowned in Dix River, Monday.

So far as ascertained, seventeen people lost their lives in the flood in West Virginia.

John T. Leavelle died at Bryantville, aged 60 years. He was the last of nine brothers.

Wells, a convict, escaped from a rail road camp near Georgetown, and was pursued and killed by guards.

Henrietta McDaniels was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for the murder of Ed J. Cross at Mayville.

Mrs. Nancy Ann Engelman Crow, a native of Lancaster county, died in Boyle county, last week, aged 77 years.

Henry, the sixteen-year-old son of William H. Clay, was drowned Friday while crossing a swollen creek near Paris, Ky.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Memphis, Tenn. Friday evening, at 6:20 o'clock. Another shock was felt at 8:15. No damage is reported.

The loss to life insurance companies, by reason of the flood in the Cumbernaugh Valley, will reach over $250,000. Nearly $175,000 has already been paid.

At Gallatin, Tenn., H. S. Dunn has sued the Western Union Telegraph Company for $20,000 damages, for having transmitted newspaper dispatches stating that he was a bigamist.

A child of an unknown Italian fell into the river from a steamer at Paducah, and Henry Shelton, the colored fireman, sprang into the water to rescue it. Both man and child went down together, and were drowned.

Collector Goodloe, of the Seventh district, is losing no time in turning

CONCERNING FARMERS.

In Garrard county, 122 stock ewes sold at $3.50.

In Boyle county, 3,000 bushels of wheat sold at 70 cents.

One hundred and twenty-five horses were burned in a livery stable in New York, Sunday.

In the month of June I. F. Tabb bought and shipped from his warehouse in Mt. Sterling, 12,000 chickens.

The wool clip of the United States increased from 60,000,000 pounds in 1880 to more than 800,000,000 pounds in 1884.

The raising of hemp has proved a success in New York State, and it will probably be grown there hereafter in great quantities.

Auctioneer Ramsey reports no public sales of cattle at Winchester, Monday, and only 40 privately. They were 1,000 pounds and went at $3.25. Day generally dull.

Of the seventeen foals from Miss Russell, the dam of Maud S., only two are dead. It is estimated that Miss Russell's living produce represents a valuation of not less than $300,000.

The Weekly Crop Bulletin, published by the Kentucky State Weather Service in connection with the Signal Service, for the week ending Saturday, is the most encouraging issue for some weeks.

M. G. & Jno. G. Weisinger sold 1,500 bushels of old wheat to C. G. Vanard, of Hustonville, at 85c. John Cowan sold his growing crop of wheat for 80c last fall. Our local buyers are offering only 70c to-day.—Danville Advocate.

James S. Stoll has purchased of Ed. A. Tipton, Lexington, a half interest in the bay colt Red Liquor, by Red Wilkes, dam Edna Sprague, by Gov. Sprague. Red Liquor is entered in the 11,000 stake of the Spirit of the Times, and is one of the best bred colts in the country.

During 1888 the amount of money won in purses and stakes on the American Turf amounted to $2,616,857.50, of which first money was $2,153,133.50, second money—$387,688.55 and third money $72,255.45. The number of starts was 20,324, and largest winning horse was Proctor Knott, by Luke Blackburn, who won $75,715.—Live Stock Record.

The San Francisco Journal of Commerce says: During the week the wheat market has been moderately active with a fair business being transacted. The market for shipping wheat has been, on the whole, quotable at $1.27 1/2 to $1.30. These figures, of course are not satisfactory to the general run of producers, and business will not be very active before new wheat begins to come in the market in quantity.

T. B. Rippe has bought in this, Boyle and Lincoln counties over 200 more large shipping cattle at $4.50 a hundred, for delivery within the next 30 or 60 days.—David Patten, of Cincinnati, bought in this county of Joe A. Cohen 55 horses averaging 208 pounds; of Ed. M. Kelly, small barrel, averaging 290, of Wm. Moreland 55 averaging 190, and T. J. McMurry 107 averaging 200, all at 44 cents a pound.—Anderson News.

Local buyers and farmers have been interesting themselves during the past week in making estimates as to what will be the probable yield of the wheat crop. It is generally conceded that it will be as large as it usually is, and some think there will be a falling off of at least one-third. A gentleman tells us that he has closely investigated several fields in which the grain had been cut, and he had found an inch of the top of almost every head destroyed, and the grain loose was the destroy.

Midway Clipper.

William Blake, author of "How to Get Strong and How to Stay So," and "Sound Bodies of our Days and Nights," writes in Harper's Magazine for July, upon the question "Is American Juvenile Delinquency?" and will make a number of practical suggestions for reforming our system of education in the direction of physical training.

Maj. Amos Stickney, engineer in charge of Government work in the Louisville district, has asked for $900,000 to be expended in improving the falls of the Ohio river, and $100,000 for work on the Indiana chute. Maj. Daniel W. Lockwood wants $500,000 for Kentucky river, $131,145 for the Big Sandy, and $100,000 for Licking river.

The bank clearings in Louisville during the week, ending July 20, were $8,964,248, an increase of 22.9 per cent. over the corresponding week in 1888. For the same periods, Cincinnati shows an increase of 18 per cent. and Kansas City 6 per cent. No other city shows clearings amounting $4,000,000, or over, shows such a large per cent. of increase as Louisville.

Quite an important real estate transaction has just taken place here. Rev. J. Hays Allen, of Los Angeles, Cal., has sold his property near town (the Randolph place), for $100,000 to his brother-in-law, J. W. Allen, of the same city. This is a very desirable home and one of the most lovely of our many beautiful suburban residences.—Danville Advocate.

The Middleborough Lumber and Employment Company has been incorporated at Lexington with a capital stock of $100,000. The business of the company will be the buying and selling of lots in Middleborough, Ky., the new town at Cumberland Gap. Hon. M. C. Alfred has been made President, Jas. A. Healey, Vice-President, and J. F. Slusher, Treasurer.

A negro boy by the name of Will Embury last week shot and killed another negro by the name of Dan Crouch, near Little's Camp, on the Upper Tug. Both parties were railroad hands, and about all the evidence we have in the case is that Crouch, in an idle moment, threw some meal on Embury for fun. Then the latter pulled his pistol and said, "You didn't think I would do anything to you, did you?" after which he fired, the ball entering Crouch's eye penetrating his brain, killed him instantly. Embury has already served two terms in the penitentiary, and the prospects are that he has a good opportunity for the third.—Jackson Hustler.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

According to previous call the Republicans of the 29th Senatorial District, consisting of the counties of Madison, Estill and Rockcastle, assembled, through representatives, at Richmond, on the 17th of July, 1889. J. J. Williams, Esq., of Rockcastle, was called to the chair, and Prof. L. V. Dodge, of Madison, was elected Secretary.

The nomination of a candidate for State Senator being the chief business of the convention, several names, from the different counties, were presented and informally discussed. Finally Dr. Phil Roberts, of Madison, was unanimously nominated, and in a brief speech accepted.

J. J. Williams, Chmn. L. V. Dodge, Sec'y.

for several years have been perfecting their picker, have made a contract with the Chattanooga Agricultural Works for the manufacture of a number of pickers in time for the coming crop. Mr. John P. Richardson, one of the most extensive planters in the South, after a careful investigation has agreed to buy a number, and estimates he will save $30,000 in the picking of his cotton crop compared with hand-picking. He says: "I believe the machine, in its present condition, will pick cotton at a cost of not exceeding 10 cents per hundred, and, as you know, we have to pay cotton-pickers from 50 cents to $1.25 per hundred for picking."—Manufacturers Record.

Col. Bennett H. Young, in a letter to the Courier-Journal, calls attention to the fact that grape rot has made its appearance in this vicinity. He thinks this ravaging disease, which has destroyed so many bright hopes of a grape crop, can be effectively stayed by the use of the remedies proposed by the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, which are, first: Eau celeste, which consists of 1 lb. copper sulphate, 1 1/2 pints liquid ammonia and 22 gallons of water. Second, the Bordeaux mixture, consists of 6 lbs. copper sulphate, 4 lbs. fresh lime and 22 gallons water. Dissolve the copper sulphate and lime in separate vessels and add the water. A larger or smaller portion may be made—using same proportions. On the appearance of the rot, spray, or brush the mixture on the vines with a brush or broom. The Government authorities had such confidence in these remedies that their use was strongly recommended.—Farmers Home Journal.

Office of GREENE & EMBURY, Cincinnati Union Stock Yards, July 1st, 1889.

DEAR SIR:—Believe me to find our comparative sales of shipping lambs and sheep in the month of June 1887, 1888 and 1889. Also the average weights and prices for both, for the years and month mentioned. Bucks and cull-lambs, not considered in this statement.

June 1888.—Receipts at Covington Stock Yards, 62,000; Number handled by us at Covington and Cincinnati, 39,578; Average weight of sheep 161; Average weight of lambs, 68; Average price of sheep, $3.97; Average price of lambs, $4.68.

June 1889.—Receipts at Covington Stock Yards, 54,000; Number handled by us at Covington and Cincinnati, 42,878; Average weight of sheep, 115; Average weight of lambs, 72; Average price of sheep, $3.94; Average price of lambs, $4.49.

Very Respectfully, GREENE & EMBURY.

It is quite true that Spokane is one of those plains giants which make their appearance at intervals upon the turf, and since his great triumph at Chicago he is worth more than any other rising horse in America. Kentuckians and Tennesseans have been faithful to Proctor Knott, and their empty pockets attest the depth of the devotion they have lavished upon the best chestnut gelding, but it is now time for them to gracefully acknowledge the superiority of the Montana colt, since it has been proven in three exciting duels of speed. If our representative had to be beaten we prefer that Spokane should have been the winner, since he is half Kentuckian himself, for, though not born on Kentucky soil, he is of pure Kentucky blood, and dates his descent from the Bluegrasses. It is a pity that Spokane is not entered in any of the great Eastern stakes, where he could merit the blue blood of the New York racing stables. Although carrying extra and heavy weights, the ease with which he has won the prize of Kentucky and California at Chicago proves that he is not likely to meet a dangerous competitor on either side of the Alleghenies.—Courier-Journal.

Richard Johnson, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who has been traveling in the West with the object of ascertaining what the condition of range and farm cattle now is, and what improvements should be made, has returned from his tour. He has made a list of stock, says of the results of his observations: "In some sections it is not to be denied that the grade of the cattle has deteriorated in a marked degree. This is especially true of the extreme Northwest and the farms east of the Missouri river. Four or five years ago what are known as the Oregon cattle, though by no means confined to the State of Oregon, were by all odds the best to be found on the range. They were invariably three-quarters of five-sixths Durham, ran high in flesh, were good for 250 pounds, more than Montana and Dakota stock, and their beef was equal to that of fine, stall-fed stock. To-day halfbreeds are in the majority, the beef produced is not nearly so fine, and the average weight of the cattle has fallen off heavily one hundred pounds. 'One face' has been proved beyond a doubt, and that is that neither in a cold or dry section of the country should the Durham be introduced. In the farms in the agricultural belts of Minnesota, Dakota, Iowa and western Missouri farmers are still aiming to reduce rather than to increase their holdings. Breeders there are selling off their heaves and steers and replacing them with horses."

The will of the late General W. T. Withers, of Fairview, has been filed for probate. It is eminently a just disposition of his large estate. He leaves the interests of his daughters entirely to their own use. He wishes Fairview kept up, under the management of his son W. T. Withers, Jr. Some one who knows about his estate, estimates it to be worth $750,000. He provides for the education of five or more, if the income of designated property justifies it, young men to go into the ministry of the Christian church.—Lexington Gazette.

It Won't Bake Bread.—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proof from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affliction caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result. It

Fire at Bakersfield, Cal., Sunday destroyed the Southern Hotel, forty dwellings and every business house in the town. The loss is $1,000,000, and the insurance $800,000. A large number of people are homeless.

$100 REWARD. $100. The readers of THE CLIMAX will be to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarh, Hall's Catarh cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarh cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in its article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what it claims to do, has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1.00 per box. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apollecines, Lowell, Mass. 29-29.

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1889.

Vote for Tevis and Smith.
Kirkville Fair Friday and Saturday.
A man named Webster died near Red House yesterday.

Pope is selling the "New Home" sewing machine. See his ad.

Rev. C. J. Wingate has been too ill for several weeks to fill his pulpit.

Let everybody get ready for the Kirkville Fair Friday and Saturday.

Catalogues of Berea Fair are printing in this office. Full particulars next week.

Everything is ready for the Kirkville Fair day after to-morrow and the next day.

Mr. James D. Dykes killed a mad dog with a club in front of his grocery, one day last week.

Bowles, the butcher, is the proud possessor of a new twelve-pound boy, his thirteenth child.

The proposed renting of the new hotel on last Saturday did not take place on account of the building not being finished.

Mr. C. E. Curry, of Winchester, is now with Capt. T. Powell on the Fair Ground race-track, and when it is completed will go on the R. N. I. & B.

Somebody has made an effort to take an impression in wax of Pringle's store-door lock. Mr. Peter Pope's remedy is heroic, but will have to be adopted.

Crapsey & Brown, the prominent Cincinnati architects, have an advertisement in this issue of THE CLIMAX. The new Richmond Hotel is one of their designs.

The Democratic candidates decided to hold a primary election on the second Saturday in September, subject to the ratification of the Democratic County Committee.

Mr. H. J. Traynor of the firm of McKee & Traynor, owners of Sussie S. and other fast horses, left last week for the season. The first race will be at Cleveland, August 1st.

Mr. Ulysses Bailey, a workman, fell from a scaffold at Mr. W. K. Denny's residence, Thursday, and was painfully but not dangerously hurt. He is yet in bed. No bones were broken.

The regular semi-weekly convention will take place to-day to nominate a Republican candidate for the Legislature. Mr. W. B. Smith is hungry for a good ripe piece of Republican mutton.

A horse belonging to the lively stable of Part Tar Cramax & Co., of Pineville, was ridden by an officer of the law in pursuit of a Yellow Creek man, and in a fight the horse was badly shot, but not killed.

Dr. M. C. Heath has fifty acres of watermelons and fifty acres of cotton in Georgia, and says that melons are more valuable than cotton. He hasn't said anything about bringing up a car load of melons for his friends.

Miss Loula Bronston expects to open in September a Kindergarten school. A building is to be erected at her father's home especially for the purpose, and every advantage in the way of study as well as play grounds &c. will be offered her pupils.

The Independent Order of Immaculatus, colored, will celebrate their eighth anniversary in this place on Saturday. Brass band, parade, public speaking, dinner, &c.

It'll be Ruff on You.
Elsewhere in this issue Mr. A. D. Ruff uses some plain English to people who owe him, as well as to those who want to owe him. If you are interested, look into the matter.

Valuable Land For Sale.
Dr. R. L. Breck offers forty-two acres of choice land for sale to-day, in front of the Court-house door. It is situated on a building lot, being just outside the town limits. See advertisement.

Financial.
Reports of the four National Banks of Richmond are to be found in to-day's issue of THE CLIMAX. They show individual deposits to the amount of $7,474,575. Their loans and discounts are $1,474,575.

Danville Fair.
The CLIMAX thanks Secretary Meyer of the Danville Fair for a special invitation to attend, beginning August 6th. It will be an entertaining exhibition, and persons who delight in fine stock and an inviting community should go to Danville.

For Niagara.
A party of eleven left over the K. C. yesterday for Niagara Falls as follows: Dr. C. S. Holton, Dr. H. W. Bright, Messrs. R. P. Deatherage, T. E. Arnold, E. H. Palmer, James DeWitt, J. T. Boggs, Rev. H. T. Daniel and wife, Miss Sallie Ellis, and Miss Emma DeJarnatt.

Primary School.
Mrs. J. A. G. Williamson announces elsewhere in this issue that she will open a primary school in the fall of 1889. She made an excellent teacher in Madison Female Institute, as Miss Walden, and had taught in Hamilton College and other places. Those having children will find her entirely worthy of patronage.

Wheat Sold.
Last week E. Forman & Son began receiving twelve hundred bushels of wheat from Brutus J. Clay and eight hundred bushels from John B. Chennault. It was of extra quality and the price paid was 72 1/2 cents. It was also the first wheat sale of any consequence this season. The harvest was two crops ago that Senator Harris had sold his crop to W. N. Potts, of Stanford, at 75 cents, seems to have been a mistake.

Razor Factory.
Dr. G. W. Evans and Judge Chennault were in Rockcastle county the other day, and found a razor factory conducted by Steve Angling. They each bought a razor and brought it home, else we would have thought of the old idea that there is something in a name. Angling, you see, suggests a fish story. The razors were well made and performed with entire satisfaction. The handles are made of black walnut.

Estill All Right.
Hon. W. T. B. Williams, Democratic candidate for Representative of the district composed of the counties of Estill and Lee, was here on Saturday, among other delegates to the Senatorial Convention. He says that he is running to win, and that Will Tevis shall have a big majority in Estill. Messrs. J. D. Winn and Robert Smith, also delegates from Estill, said that the Democratic prospects in their county were mighty good.

Meeting of Directors.

The Cumberland Valley Land Company held its annual election for directors Wednesday when the following were chosen: Vincent Boring, Robert Boyd and J. A. Crum, London; R. B. White, Kirkville; J. W. Fox, Boston; J. B. McCrory, Richmond; W. G. Welch, J. S. Hocker and W. P. Walton, Stanford. This board organized at once and re-elected Judge Boring president, Hon. James B. McCrory vice president and J. S. Hocker secretary and treasurer. The report of a committee showed that the company has in Bell and Harlan counties some 30,000 acres of coal and timber lands besides options on several thousand more. —Stanford Journal.

Dr. William Jennings was riding near Foxtown in this county recently and came to Providence Methodist church.

Immediately opposite the church, and across the county road, he observed a stone of ancient appearance. Going near, he found this inscription: "Temperature Daniel Thompson, 1848. It is the only stone to be seen, and is as lonely as it is old. It is of sandstone, and about a yard high. The doctor, being skilful with the pencil, made a sketch of the venerable stone, and in a rough sort of way we reproduce it above. That the stone marks a grave is entirely probable, and that the grave is that of some lady of pioneer days is at least to be supposed. The oldest persons in that part of the county cannot so far as we can hear, recall any person by the name of Thompson, and it is presumed that, in the language of J. Fenimore Cooper, she was the "Last of the Mohicans." The grave, like the pebble in the room, can say, "and many a foot on me has trod who's gone from sight and under the sod." The stone stands on the lot on which stood the original log church which was donated to the church by Gen. Green Clay, deceased. There are fewer grave stones to be found in the county.

Mr. Julius Speyer, who is out on the mission of raising $20,000 in private subscription for the United States, is $2,500 of the desired amount within an hour of time. The depot will be nine hundred feet long and one hundred and sixty feet wide.—Lexington Leader.

Mr. George S. Grisco, a prominent Pittsburg financier, was here on last Thursday, looking over the line of the R. N. I. & B. He wants the bonds of the road as soon as they are put on the market. He was delighted with the country between here and Versailles.

In the L. C. & V. election two years ago Blue Ball cast 60 votes in the K. U. election shortly afterwards it cast 678 votes. Last Thursday it cast 1,145 votes. This is a plain and unmistakable fraud. Such fraud should defeat the legality of the subscription.—Winchester Sun.

On yesterday in the County Clerk's office the Lexington Passenger and Belt Railway Company mortgaged their entire rolling stock and real estate to the Lexington and Security Trust Company for $150,000. This is one of the largest transactions of the kind recorded in the court here for years. The road is being pushed forward rapidly and will be running cars by the beginning of the new year.—Lexington Press.

A company of Richmond gentlemen have laid a new road from a point on the K. C. to the top of Big Hill, and propose to build a railroad to that point. They have leased all the coal lands from Big Hill down through Creek to the K. C. The grade is a remarkably good one, and the cost of construction will be light. Parties from McKee, Jackson county, want the road extended to that place. This will be another railroad for Richmond. Now let Fayette county build her line from Lexington to tap the R. N. I. & B. at Tates Creek Ferry, and won't Richmond be flying?

Two Robberies and a Robber.
On last Saturday morning Dr. Phil Roberts discovered that his house had been robbed. The robber had placed a ladder to the front window next to Main street, and immediately opposite the residence of Dr. Foster, and according to the report of Dr. Roberts, the robber had entered the house and gone down the stairs and plundered the house. All the money in the house was taken, and the robber had taken a portion of his wife's wardrobe. The doctor and his family were taken to the back yard of his residence. The robber had entered the family room, the pants out and the pockets. Dr. Smith's drawers were only 30 cents. Several clothes in his pocket book were not taken. Dr. Roberts lost no money. The papers in his pocket book were not disturbed.

Early that day, Mr. "Buster" Barnes came into town from his home on the Barton Road and told a stranger that he had sold some articles which he recognized as belonging to Dr. Roberts. Deputy Sheriff Lee Maupin at once went in pursuit. In taking his pistol out he dropped it and bent the trigger rod so that it was not available for the day. It was a single-action revolver—the trigger requires the hammer to be pulled back with the thumb, and the trigger pulled by the finger in order to fire it. Mr. Maupin had always been used to that sort of a pistol. Sheriff Liles handed him a double-action Smith & Wesson, one that shoots simply by pulling the trigger.

Thus armed, Deputy Maupin set out in pursuit. He heard that the stranger was enquiring for the house of Mr. N. B. Coy. On Coy's farm hands had been hit on the head by a man in a fight and nearly killed, and the stranger stated that he wanted to take the man's place on the farm. Maupin proceeded to the Barton Road and there a stranger told him that he had sold some articles which he recognized as belonging to Dr. Roberts. Deputy Sheriff Lee Maupin at once went in pursuit. Maupin proceeded to the Barton Road and there a stranger told him that he had sold some articles which he recognized as belonging to Dr. Roberts. Deputy Sheriff Lee Maupin at once went in pursuit. He heard that the stranger was enquiring for the house of Mr. N. B. Coy. On Coy's farm hands had been hit on the head by a man in a fight and nearly killed, and the stranger stated that he wanted to take the man's place on the farm. ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder is made of purest, strength and whiteness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold in competition with the best. It is a leading color in Paris, and is in great favor for evening toilets.

Gold trimming and gold embroidery may be seen on white and black bonnets.

Low crowns are the rule with round hats. The trim is much longer in front than at the back.

Spring sky is the fanciest name of a popular color. It is a dull leaden color reflecting silver lights.

Notwithstanding the encroachments of polonaises and redingotes, round and belted waist is in favor.

There are many new cotton stuffs for summer. They come in shades of rose, in blue of different tints, in pink, in gray, and in lavender.

The most popular colors for gloves are the golden brown, beige and gray. Of the latter there is a great variety—silver antique, spring sky, Russian gray, actor and nun's gray.

Newly-imported black dresses are being made up over foundations of black faille or mervelous silk, with no trace of color visible save the emerald sash of old rose, violet, or Nile green.

Gloves for evening wear are made in tea rose, cameo, silver, pale, wheat color, primrose, jonquil yellow, violet, rose, and lavender.

Persian mauve, a charming sort of violet, golden green, golden red, opal, a rose gray, and a pale Tinted red, would be chosen for its oddity alone.

Stiff, crisp, and a beautiful fabric, suitable for evening dress. It resembles crepe, but is much softer and more diaphanous and clinging. It may be seen in old rose, almond, terra cotta, Nile green, ivory rose, and primrose. For those who can stand the color, pale mauve-yellow silk is a very effective.

Young ladies are wearing ribbon bands in their hair with evening dresses. A number of high loops of the ribbon are placed at the top of the coiffure upheld by invisible wires to keep them in position. Silver fillets are also worn with a Grecian style of dress. Such bands are of course useful to women who have abundant tresses and classical features.

A stylish Marie Antoinette toilet, designed as a dancing dress for a New York belle, made of olive and old-rose satin, brocaded with tiny gold roses. This material forms the bodice and back, overlaid over a skirt of plain olive silk draped with old-rose tulle faintly flecked with gold.

The pointed bodice is cut away in a deep V-shape in the neck, front, and back, with a Marie Antoinette fichu of the same material draped over the shoulders and tucked in front and the ends are carried to the back and there gracefully knotted, the sash falling over the shimmering folds of the brocade.—Chicago News.

SWEET PUNISHMENT.
A Schoolmaster's Experiment That Was a Decided Failure.

"Mary Jane Craycraft," said the teacher, sharply, "you will take your seat over there between Joe Bridgwater and Bob Angel!"

A tishy drew the cheek of the little girl. She half rose, hesitated, and sat down again.

"Do as you are told," said Mr. Hoskinson.

And Mr. Hoskinson reached up for the long, tapering orange switch, trimmed of its thorns, that rested on the table driven into the wall back of his desk.

Mary Jane waited no longer. Mr. Hoskinson was a man of his word. She went over and took her seat between the two boys, who submitted to the visitation with that passive obedience that boys will sometimes manifest when circumstances order which they have no control place by their side the prettiest girl in school.

"As an experiment for this afternoon I have decided that every girl who whistles or violates any of the rules," announced the teacher, emphatically, "shall be punished in precisely the same way. Naomi Jackson," he continued, "I saw you put that chew of spruce gum in your mouth. You will take your seat on the boys' side between Ben Parrott and Sol Lecker."

With an air of the deepest contrition Naomi complied.

"Phoebe Joanna Clifton," rang out the school voice, "do as I bid you," "march over there and sit down between Huddy Ingraham and Jay Seely! You were whispering. Laura Bridgwater, I saw you taking a bite of apple. You will go now to the boys' seat between Ed Montgomery and Dave Erwin. Lida Demoss and Tom Yates, who have been talking, take your seats between Joe and Helen Simpson's desk and go and take your seat between John Nell and Billy Hook. This discipline must be stepped. Fanny Oberbeck must step down to the boys' side. I saw you writing a comic letter to your sister. Go and take your seat between Jim Stevenson and George Ramsey."

Fifteen minutes later Mr. Hoskinson, with a despairing groan, dismissed the children for the day. The girls of his usually quiet school were mischievous to a degree he had never before known in all his experience, and there was no way to punish them.

The boys' side of the room was too full of girls to hold any more.—Chicago Tribune.

PITH AND POINT.
—Passing through a field of melons, he is wise to stoop to the one's nose. A work well begun is half done, but the other half should not be neglected.

—The human mind is a gem; but it is sometimes very much impaired by a bad setting.—Jeweler's Weekly.

FRESH FASHION NOTES.

Information Obtained from Chicago Importers and Milliners.

Graceful neck-scarves are worn with stylish home dresses.

The toque and the round hat are the favorites for spring headwear.

Printed Cane silk is evidently destined to a long run of popularity.

Black is a leading color in Paris, and is in great favor for evening toilets.

Gold trimming and gold embroidery may be seen on white and black bonnets.

Low crowns are the rule with round hats. The trim is much longer in front than at the back.

Spring sky is the fanciest name of a popular color. It is a dull leaden color reflecting silver lights.

Notwithstanding the encroachments of polonaises and redingotes, round and belted waist is in favor.

There are many new cotton stuffs for summer. They come in shades of rose, in blue of different tints, in pink, in gray, and in lavender.

The most popular colors for gloves are the golden brown, beige and gray. Of the latter there is a great variety—silver antique, spring sky, Russian gray, actor and nun's gray.

Newly-imported black dresses are being made up over foundations of black faille or mervelous silk, with no trace of color visible save the emerald sash of old rose, violet, or Nile green.

Gloves for evening wear are made in tea rose, cameo, silver, pale, wheat color, primrose, jonquil yellow, violet, rose, and lavender.

Persian mauve, a charming sort of violet, golden green, golden red, opal, a rose gray, and a pale Tinted red, would be chosen for its oddity alone.

Stiff, crisp, and a beautiful fabric, suitable for evening dress. It resembles crepe, but is much softer and more diaphanous and clinging. It may be seen in old rose, almond, terra cotta, Nile green, ivory rose, and primrose. For those who can stand the color, pale mauve-yellow silk is a very effective.

Young ladies are wearing ribbon bands in their hair with evening dresses. A number of high loops of the ribbon are placed at the top of the coiffure upheld by invisible wires to keep them in position. Silver fillets are also worn with a Grecian style of dress. Such bands are of course useful to women who have abundant tresses and classical features.

A stylish Marie Antoinette toilet, designed as a dancing dress for a New York belle, made of olive and old-rose satin, brocaded with tiny gold roses. This material forms the bodice and back, overlaid over a skirt of plain olive silk draped with old-rose tulle faintly flecked with gold.

The pointed bodice is cut away in a deep V-shape in the neck, front, and back, with a Marie Antoinette fichu of the same material draped over the shoulders and tucked in front and the ends are carried to the back and there gracefully knotted, the sash falling over the shimmering folds of the brocade.—Chicago News.

SWEET PUNISHMENT.
A Schoolmaster's Experiment That Was a Decided Failure.

"Mary Jane Craycraft," said the teacher, sharply, "you will take your seat over there between Joe Bridgwater and Bob Angel!"

A tishy drew the cheek of the little girl. She half rose, hesitated, and sat down again.

"Do as you are told," said Mr. Hoskinson.

And Mr. Hoskinson reached up for the long, tapering orange switch, trimmed of its thorns, that rested on the table driven into the wall back of his desk.

Mary Jane waited no longer. Mr. Hoskinson was a man of his word. She went over and took her seat between the two boys, who submitted to the visitation with that passive obedience that boys will sometimes manifest when circumstances order which they have no control place by their side the prettiest girl in school.

"As an experiment for this afternoon I have decided that every girl who whistles or violates any of the rules," announced the teacher, emphatically, "shall be punished in precisely the same way. Naomi Jackson," he continued, "I saw you put that chew of spruce gum in your mouth. You will take your seat on the boys' side between Ben Parrott and Sol Lecker."

With an air of the deepest contrition Naomi complied.
